I will take that to mean that you wont bill me for any changes to the report narrative as I had asked to see that prior to QA. Hopefully it won't matter.

Hi Steve,

I talked to Leslie. She is on her way back from a couple days in the field. The emergency response letter report is close to being ready, but there are a few things that still need to be done to the figures and table, and I think those changes should be made before she sends you the draft. That will happen tomorrow.

Since I picked this up with Leslie in the field, our quality reviews of the report have been completed and won't need to be repeated, except to confirm that any comments you have on the draft have been addressed.

Thanks for the call today and sorry for the delay in getting this report to you. If you have any other questions or concerns, please just let me know.

Andy
